CINCINNATI IS TUMBLING. BALTIMORES THRASH THE REDS IN

A DOUBLE-HEADER. Bostons Reep Their Advantage by Winning Twice from St. Louis-New York and Pittshurg Break Even - Louisville Shuts Brook-tra Out-Wasbington Wiss and Loses,

The Cincinnatis appear to be out of the race for the League pennant. They were badly benten in two games by the Baltimores yesterday, and are seventeen points behind the Ori-Hanlon's men gained one point on the Bostons, although the champions corralled a double-header from the failenders. The New Yorks and Pittsburgs broke even on two games, so that their percentage remains unshanged. The Louisvilles shut the Brooklyns out, and the Washingtons won and lost in two battles with the Clevelands. Enin prevented the Chicago-Philadelphia contest. The results: New York, 7; Pitteburg, 8 (first game).

NEW YORE, 7: PITTEBUEG, 3—FIRST GAME.
About 400 persons went to the Polo Grounds yesterday to see the New Yorks and Pittsburgs play two games for one admission. When the first game began there were exactly fifty-eight apectators in the stands; the others straggled in until the second contest was under way.
Neymour pitched strongly in the opening atfair, especially with men on bases, and received errorless support. Hart went to pieces in the sixth inning and the New Yorks piled up five runs on three bases on balls, four singles and an error by Padden. Lever succeeded Hart and no more runs were secored. Donovan went to the bat five times and did not fail to hit safely. Foster, in New York sleft field, made a couple of pretty catches and got in a single at the right time. The umpirea, Swartwood and Warner, permitted kicking by Joyce, Seymour, Warner, Hart and McCarthy, Swartwood and warner, Hart and McCarthy, Swartwood finally threatened to eject Hart from the game if he did not let up. Ety. Clark, O'Brien and Davis made the neatest fielding plays. The score:

PITTSBURG, G: NEW YORK, I-SECOND GAME.
Gettig, although he did not give a base on balls and pitched well enough to whi an ordinary game, received such poor support in the second game that it is a wonder he did not lose heart. The New Yorks lacked ginger, couldn't hit, and appeared to be desirous of ending their task as soon as possible. Lever occupied the box for Pittsburg during the first two innings and the locals made their only run of the game, due to Van Haliten's triple and anyout. Then Tannehill took the ball in hand and bowled the New Yorks over with apparent case. Foster again distinguished himself by taking five hard drives with excellent judgment, and also pounded the ball very hard, although only one drive went safe. Joyce kicked some more, while Padden, Gleason and Gray also took exception to the rullings of the umpire.

Pittsburg's run in the fifth was the result of Padden's single, errors by Gettig and Warner and a wild pitch. The visitors made another run in the sixth on O'Brien's single, an out, and a scratch by Padden. Two bungles by Joyce in the seventh let two more runs in. Ely singled, Tannehill sacrificed and Donovan hat to Gleason, whose throw was muffed by the New York captain. Ely scored on the error and Donovan ran all the way to third, alded by Joyce's boor throw. Donovan scored on O'Brien's terrified drive to jeft that was beautifully taken by Foster. Clean, scientific hitting by the Pittsburgs notted two runs in the last two innings. The score:

LOUISVILLE, 2; BROOKLYN, O.

Superb pitching and faultless fielding were the combination which defeated the Brooklyns at Washington Park yesterday afternoon. Not only were the home players treated to a dose of whitewash, but they failed to reach third base throughout the game. Barring the fourth in ring, when the Louisvilles hunched three hits. Rennedy's work was equal to that of Magee, but the damage had been done, and the home players were not able to overcome the lead of their opponents. Young Ritchey, who was purchased by the Brooklyn Club and released to the Cincinnatis without having an opportunity to play, won the game for the Kennekins, hitting safely with two men out, which brought Hoy and Hartzell across the rubber. Grim had a narrow escape from being seriously injured. Jack chased after a foul ball and ran into the wooden shed which covers the visiting players' bench. He lay on the ground for several minutes, but pluckly resumed catching. The score:

Ball Players Fight in Baltimore. BALTIMORE, Sept. 15 .- In the last half of the eighth inning of the second game to-day Peitz and McGraw indulged in a fistic encounter. McGraw was on third base, with Keeler at the bat. Keeler hit to Steinfeldt, who threw home. and Peltz dropped the throw. McGraw slid into the plate, and Peltz got McGraw's head between his knees and squeezed it, whether intween his knees and squeezed it, whether intentionally or not, and in his efforts to recover the bail he walked all over bledraw's legs and neck. This enraged the little third baseman, and when he got up he struck Peitz in the face. Hennie struck back, butthe two were separated before any more damage was done. After the game McGraw said: "I am very sorry this occurred, but Peitz, who is a much larger man than myself, tried to take advantage. He squeezed my head and neck unmercifully and then walked all over me, and I would not take it from him or any one else."

Baseball Notes.

Bill Clark is playing splendid ball for the Pitts-Two games will be played between the Brooklyns and Pittsburgs at Washington Park to morrow after-

Donovan of the Pittaburgs made six consecutive safe hits yesterday, five in the first game and another the first time at bat in the second. The St. John's College team of Brooklyn has Sept, 24 to fill with some first-class semi-professional club offering a good guarantee. Address H. R. Meyers, 506 Marcy avenue, Brooklyn.

Nonroux, Sept. 15.—The statement was made to-day, and it appears to be true, that Norfolk will not be in the Atlantic Baseball Leagues next season, but that the Norfolk franchise will be sold to Harrisburg. President Ebbets has little hopes of securing Third Baseman Williams, as the Pittsburgs have an agreement with Kansas City by which the first-named club has first call on any of Manager Manning's players.

It is said that President Freedman of the New York Club intends to profest every game that Holmes has played with the Baltimores since the famous row at the Polo Grounds. As a majority of the National League clubs are on record as to this case, the profests will probably amount to nothing.

Preparations are being made for the game of baseball to be played on the Fordham tollege campus between the Fordhams and the Suburban B. B. Club of Tremont. The regular Fordham team will hardly appear, as many of the old players have not returned to the college as yet. The Fordhams defeated the Buburban three out of four games during the early part of the season. The Suburban team is one of the best semi-professional teams in the country. Capt. Congdon has done much to bring the Tremont boys up to their present standard. There is no fear that the Fordham boys will not be able to cope with their repoperats. A series of class games has been arranged between the classes of the university department, and much excitement will be brought about when the schedule opens.

Hoboken Turtle Club Winds Up Its Festivities for the Season.

The members and friends of the Hoboken Turtle Club had an enjoyable time at the fourth and last breakfast and dinner of the season at the Eingsbridge Rotel on the Harlem River yesterday. The breakfast was served at 8 o'clock in the morning and the dinner at 4 o'cleck in the afternoon. Covers were laid for aud, and every seat was occupied at each meal. An BOO, and every seal was occupied at each meal. An interesting feature of the affair was the music furnished by thirteen members of the Eighti Rogtment Band. New York Volunteers, under the direction of the Old Guard bandmester, Frof. J. B. Rampone. The band consists of twenty-five men, but twelve are on the sick list. The three Minny brothers and the minint, Tour Ballastine, kept the guests in roars of laughter. Among those present were: Generge D. Moott, Col. J. M. Jarvis, Capt. A. E. McIntyre, Major H. G. Ridabock, Major J. E. Rerby, Major L. E. Neff, Capt. J. F. Bearney, Capt. G. J. Wontwerth, and Lieut. A. Jacobson, all of the Eighth Regiment. ACUSHLA AT LONG ODDS. W. H. CLARK'S FILLY WINS THE WIL-

LOW STAKES AT GRAFESEND.

Ragged Start for the Speculation Stakes the Only Blot on the Sport-Maher Pilots George Keene, White Frost and Tyrian to Victory-The Winner Ties a Record. One of the sensational events which serve as milestones in the chronology of racing oc-curred at Gravesend track yesterday in the Willow Stakes for two-year-old fillies. student of recent form dared to pick anything against Black Venus, and the Kantaka-Queenle filly was promptly played from even money down to 3 to 5. On the general principle of taking a chance to beat a prohibitive favorite, four of the other six runners were nibbled at, but Acushia and Effervescent were passed over as the hopeless outsiders. The latter was an added starter and Whiplash also figured on the supplementary list. Lady Lindsey had the speed of the bunch for a quarter, when she gave way to Whiplash. This filly led her field by a length until well up the stretch, when Prestidigitatrice, Acushla and La Penitente swooped down on her. Acushla closed with a grand burst of speed and won on the post by a short head from the Morris filly, who beat La Penitente two lengths. lash failed to stay the route and lost "show noney" by a neck. The other stake feature on the card was the Speculation, a selling dash of one mile for three-year-olds and upward. It brought out a well-balanced field and fully justified its title, as the majority of the runners were well backed. St. Callapine closed favorite with Handsel and George Keene next in demand. They lined up almost directly in front of the udges' box and George Keene started the trouble by kicking Leedsville so heavily that the latter curled up and almost collapsed in a heat. Burns fought nervously shy o' the fiv-ing heels and repeatedly falled to bring Hand-heap. Burns fought nervously shy o' the fiving heels and repeatedly falled to bring Handsel up into line.

When the starter finally gave the word Leedsville had all the racing kicked out of him and stood stock still. Clawson was off like a flash with the favorite, and Maher was also quick in motion with George Keene. The result was a ragged start, which looked worse than it might have been if all the jockeys accepted the chance as alertly as Clawson and Maher. Some of the onlookers hissed and then lapsed into grim silence. It was the starter's only questionable effort during the afternoon, but that fact did not seem to count. St. Caliatine and George Keene alternated in the lead for seven furlongs, when Maher drew away with the Fleisohmann colt and won by four lengths. The favorite beat Continental by a similar distance, with Handpress making a gallant fight for the short end of the stake. The atmosphere was heavy and dull and rain threatened in the early afternoon, but the regulars turned out almost 4,000 strong and settled down industriously to an analysis of a well-filled card. A plunge on Yankee Man sent him to the post equal favorite with The Lady in Blue for the maiden two-year-old dash, which started the sport. The Himpar filly ran around her field in impressive style and won by a length and a half. Chappaqua, Oration, and Yankee Sam finished heads abart in a rousing drive. The Winner, with a lot of "Pittsburg Phil's" money aboard, won the second race eleverly by a length. Twinkler came from the rear and beat Ben lionald a head for the place. TROTTING AND PACING.

Searchlight Has Speed to Spare in the Fast

PORTLAND, Sept. 15 .- This was another exceptionally fine day at Rigby Park, and the attendance was nearly up to that of yesterday, when the Joe Patchen-Chehalis match was a feature. But the sport was not nearly as exhilarating to-day. In only one of the three races was there anything really exciting. Contrary to the previous experiences of the meeting, all three events went to favorites, two of them in straight nests and the third being lengthened to four heats by an unlooked-for turn of the tables. The 2:05 pace, which had been looked forward to as a principal feature of the week, proved rather a disappointment, from the fact that Searchlight, owned by A. B. Spreckels, the San Francisco millionaire, had speed to spare in every heat and with apparent ease headed the field home. This horse and the Tennessee horse Roan Wilkes, always a favorite in Maine, furnished last month the most exciting race and the fastest time made during the New England Fair. On that occasion the roan was more than a match for the Californian. But to-day Searchlight, with Geers behind him, retrieved his defeat and Geers behind him, retrieved his defeat and showed a clean pair of heels to his former rival. After two heats the judges complained that the time was too slow for such silek performers, and they ordered Haggs down from Roan Wilkes's sulky and substituted Tom Marsh.

T. E. Keating, Searchlight's trainer, landed the largest end of a purse with another of his string. His mare Dione got away with two heats of the 2:14 trot without a skip. She had Jupe and Stamboulet at her sulky in both finishes. When they came out for the third mile everybody supposed it was all over, but the mare Town Lady, owned by J. H. Shults of Brooklyn, got out of a pocket coming down the stretch and won by a nose. In the fourth heat Town Lady lost the pole at the lower turn, at the upper end of the stretch, got into a pocket and fell back. The 2:28 pace was won handily by Royal R. Sheldon. Split Silk was the only thing in the field that could give him any argument. Summaries:

NO PROSPECT OF PAST RIDERS ORGAN IZING FOR SELF-PROTECTION. Bacing Board Continues to Assert Its Power

Thereby Showing the Supremacy of the Lengue-A Popular Old Run Spolled-Murphy Leads in a Mileage Contest.

The foremost men among the fast riders who "follow the circuit" looking for cham-pionship points have been talking for some time about organizing in some manner for self-protection, but talk is all the idea has amounted to. Several men have been approached and asked to draw up the plans for ch an association, not one essentially antagonistic to the League, but laid out along such self-sufficient and independent lines that it would have no hesitancy about riding Sunday races or participating in any unsanctioned meet. The fastest men have again and again expressed this sentiment, but they nover have been able to find a leader. Such men as they could agree upon have declined and the men who were willing were not acceptable. The track managers and promoting organizations have been filling the air with the same kind of talk, but they have been as much at a loss for some one to make the first move as the men who ride. The talk has been embarrassing to the Racing Board of the L. A. W., and the present situation, with nearly all the important tracks and the prominent promoters under suspension, strongly suggests that Chairman Mott has taken the initiative and thrown down the gantlet to the disturbers by asserting his power and the all antagonistic spirits under the ban the opportunity for organizing opposition is thrust upon them. It looks very much as if the Bacing Board was making a display of its power and virtually asking: "What are you going to do about it?" It is known that several schemes are in process of formation, and many expect to see definite action taken before the winter has passed, but the leader upon whom all can agree is missing. As one nember of the League who is anxious to see the organization wash its hands of racing "A Moses is needed to lead the hesitating, confused and scattered army. It looks to me like laziness on the part of some of those who have the most brains and yet are doing nothing but talk. Any one of several who are talking loudly is capable of drafting plans for a new organization and writing out rules for it that would be subscribed by riders, managers and track owners. The Raeing Board is making a deflance, and, while the real conductors and supporters of racing are waving their arms and shrieking about injustice, not one is trying to do anything practical toward placing the sport in new and capable hands. The important tracks in good standing with the League are now in a minority. It seems to me the only thing for them to do is to say nothing and ask no favors. The men who race for a living if asked to ride for so much money will ride, because the League will not offer to them a cent not to ride. With the majority of the tracks beyond the pale of the League, it needs only a few unsayed. confused and scattered army. It looks to me the League will not offer to them a cent not to ride. With the majority of the tracks beyond the pale of the League, it needs only a few unsanctioned meets and the suspension of the majority of fast men for League control to be a farse. Instead of taking the bull by the horns, though, it looks as if the track owners are likely to get down on their knees the same as ever and make terms. I do not want to see the control of racing wrested from the L. A. W. I want to see it give it up voluntarily, but a situation such as this makes me sick when I think of what might be done by those who have been making the most noise."

A number of riders have been discovering A number of riders have been discovering with much chaggin that the popular old run from New York to Tarrytown and across to Nyack and return to Jersey City has been spoiled by road conditions across the boundary line between New Jersey and New York. On the west side of the river, from Closter, N. J., to Sparkill, N. Y., there is a five-and-a-half-mile stretch of sandy road, two-thirds of which is absolutely unridable. The county authorities on each side of the line seem determined to do nothing toward coming to an agreement to do nothing toward coming to an agreement and building up the highway. This run has for several years been one of the best known and most putronized by Sunday excursionists, but at present it is practically impossible.

That Edward S. Edwards, the rider who travelled 100 miles on a wheel every day during the first 250 of the year, came to New York a pretty sick man, has been admitted by those who handled him. A rumor was current yesterday that he was in a dying condition. This might be said of any man with typhoid pneumonia. Representatives of those who have been backing Edwards aver that his condition is improving.

official information from Chairman Mott to the effect that the suspension of the Berkeley Oval track would not prevent the events of the Firemen's Cycle Club from being held to-morrow was received yesterday morning by Secretary-Treasurer Bull. The telegram from Baltimore read: "They can hold races on Saturday at Berkeley Oval." President John J. P. McAree of the Firemen's Club also received notification of this decision, and so did the managers of the track. This lifts a burden of suspense from the minds of those who were interested in the games, but it is cold consolation for the managers of the Oval, tecanse in no way has the Bacing Board implied that the suspension was raised except for the purposes of the meet to-morrow. The progress in the arrangements of the firemen for the purposes of the meet to-morrow. The progress in the arrangements of the firemen was barely checked by the announcement of the suspension of the track, and the club members are looking forward with pleasure to a day of good sport. Besides the bicycle races there will be athletic events on both field and track. Because of the alliance between the A.A. U. and L. A. W. these also would have had to be declared off if Chairman Mott had not made an exception in favor of the fire lighters. Mayor Van Wyck, Chief Bonner and Chief Devery are scheduled to act as judges.

A chronic century rider says that the craving for pie and sweetmeats on the part of the returned soldiers is a lesson for wheelmen who ride long distances. The same greed for saycharine matter is shown by athletes of all kinds who suffer from exhaustion, and except in cases where the body is very weak and the digestion is impaired it is argued to be a prompting of nature that should be humored. The nutritious properties of sugar, this century plodder says, are just what a man making forced marches and long rides requires, and he recommends riders on tours and long trips to indulge themselves judiciously in sugar and candy, especially at such times as they are too tired to cat heartily of meats and vegetables. He states that in his experience he has found that the appetite reacts naturally, and the stomach is spared being overloaded during the ride or being collapsed at the finish. A chronic century rider says that the craving

Bobby Dobbs Defeats Billy Ernst in Nine Rounds-McGovern Knocks Out Garcia. The twenty-round "go" between Bobby Dobbs, the colored lightweight of Minneapolis and Billy Ernst of Brooklyn, at the Greenwood A. C. last night, was stopped by the police in the ninth round and the decision was given to Dobbs. The affair was quite a drawing card, the club being packed when the final event was put on. Ernst was outclassed from the begin ning and tried more than once to lose on a Referee Owen Ziegler did good work by parting the men when the fighting became parting the men when the fighting became vicious.

Terry McGovern and Eugene Garcia, two Brooklyn bantams, started hostilities with an interesting fifteen-round bout at catchweights. In the fifth round Terry brought over the right plump on the jaw, and Garcia tumbled to the floor, knocked out.

The usual delay occurred before the principals in the wind-up appeared. Dobbs, wearing a long yellow bathrobe, was the first to take his corner, Behind him were Jack Skelly, Jim Johnson, Jack Oreary and Willie Dobbs. Ernst's seconds were Dan Gallagher. Joe Burke and Dan Dougherty. The conditions were 138 pounds at 3 o'clock and the limit was twenty rounds. Dobbs weighed in all right, but Ernst was over weight. Dobbs in the first round held out his left glove and tilted his body to one side. Ernst led often, but couldn't land. Dobbs took the initiative in the second and rushed. He tried with the left a half dozen times, but missed. In the cinches Ernst used his elbow and the crowd hissed. Dobbs forced Ernst in the third. He used his left again and was successful in getting through Billy's guard. He poked Ernst on the mouth and on the nose and hit him on the hody often, but not with any force.

Ernst resumed his foul work in the fourth and was cautioned. Dobbs didn't make a kick, but fought cautiously. He crossed Ernst on the mark with the right and Ernst went down. Ernst arose and was floored again with another on the same spot. Ernst, when he regained his feet again, was careful and managed to stay the round out. Ernst was much refreshed in the fifth. He was inclined to rough it, and were it not for the referees ability to part them would have succeeded in fouling Bobby again. Ernst was waiting for a chance to land his powerful right, but Dobbs kept out of harm's way. Ernst brought up his left hind ernst's side. Billy stopped the next lead for the same place with his glove, but left his right check uncovered and received a jolt that must have made him see comets. Ernst his left ender the same place with his glove, but le

The proposed match between Showalter and Janowski is almost certain to come off in this country, inasmuch as Max Judd, the former United States Consul-General at Vienna, has authorized The Sun to inform Janowski that he would be greatly pleased to guarantee the necessary amount of expenses to the Parisian in case the Manhattan Chess Club should decline to necent Showalter's offer. Janowski is said to be very anxious to come to this country, where he contemplates making a tour after playing the match with the Kentuskian. Prominent members of the Manhattan Chess Club said yesterday that it was quite likely the match would be contested under the auspices of the club, inasmuch as Janowski is known as a clever, brilliant, and aggressive player all over the world. Showalter has authorized The Sun to complete all further arrangements for him, as he intends to leave this city for his home at Georgetown within the next few days. A team of the Philadelphia "Colts," who are to play P. F. Warner's English team of cricketers next week, visited Staten Island yesterday, and won a vid tory over the local cuto in a tont two-inning game by 36 runs. A wretched wicket was responsible for the low scoring, and helped H. W. Middleton to obtain the remarkable bowhing analysis of eight wickets for 8 runs in the first inning. The best batting was done by N. Z. Graves and F. G. Pearson, both of whom played in good form. For Staten Island, Dr. O'Connor was the only player to reach double figures in the first inning, but G. N. Boyd and Lohmann made a good stand in the second. The score: Second Inning.

The Seawanhakas Send Another Challenge for the International Cup.

The trouble between the Seawanhaka and Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Clubs over the sailing of the Dominion in the recent small boat races at Montreal is likely to be settled in a manner satisfactory to all parties. At a special meeting of the Seawanhaka Club, held at the Centre Island clubhouse on Wednesday night, it was decided to send an unconditional challenge to the Boyal St. Lawrence Club. The challenge, which was telegraphed immediately after the meeting through C. A. Sherman Sec-retary of the Race Committee, reads as follows:

The Victoria Yacht Club of Hamilton, the White Bear Yacht Club of St. Paul and the Minnetonka Yacht Club of Minneapolis have also challenged for the trophy, but it is thought that the Seawanhaka challenge will be accepted. Secretary Sherman said yesterday:

"In the event of our challenge being accepted there is nothing to prevent the yachts of these other clubs being represented in our trial races, and, of course, the fastest boat, regardless of where she halled from, would be selected."

lected."
